REGARDING

MUTUAL OBLIGATION FOR SAFETY, ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AND ENERGY EFFICIENCY

As a recognised manufacturer of cylinder liners for large diesel engines and compressors M. Jürgensen GmbH & Co KG provides the world markets with products, which fit the highest quality requirements. Thereby we set high value on the cooperation with our suppliers and customers, as we are convinced that products and services can only be improved continually when working together.

At the same time we are aware of the special responsibility for existing and coming generations, what makes a careful and sustainable use of the available resources necessary. The present management system of M. Jürgensen is not least due to this orientated to the regulations of the DIN ISO 9001, 14001 and 50001.

We commit ourselves to keep all relevant environmental, energy and work safety regulations and pursue the objective to manufacture products most energy efficiently, with the best available equipment and due to further economical aspects, which assure the highest level of customer satisfaction. We also expect this from our suppliers for all provided products regarding manufacture and delivery.

We are convinced that fulfilling the norms of international recognised quality, environment, energy and work safety does not manifest in producing intern regulations and organisational rules, but only by concretely realising it into daily practice, what we expect from our employees as well as our suppliers.

Therefore we expect from employees of foreign suppliers we work with to observe all legal regulations regarding environment, energy and work safety and specially to pay attention to our regulations of the information sheet for foreign suppliers, which is handed out on site and is to be obeyed without any restrictions
